

Hi Joshua,

Can you guess where I am? If you guessed Stone henge then you guessed correctly. Can you believe Stone henge is located on the beautiful Salisbury Plain, in Southern England?

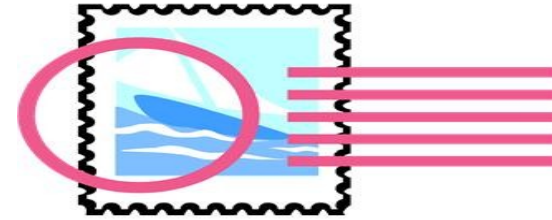

According to professionals, the monument was built over 4,500 years ago. Just imagine our Dad's being that old and still standing! Did you know that the stones weigh heavier than they look? Rocks that weigh up to 45 tonnes is impressive! Scientists believe farmers built the monument. I wonder how long it took the farmers to cut from solid rock 30 km from the site?

Well time to explore some more of Stone henge.

See you soon,

J Ruiz

P.S. Don't forget to pick me up at the airport! — JR

To:
Joshua Simangan
936 Ashburn Street
Winnipeg, MB
Canada
R36 3C9